

Hsu Mei O'Neill
Senior Lawyer, London

hsumei.oneill@schjodt.com

M: +44 778 643 6427

T: +44 208 078 9498

Hsu Mei acts for and advises global companies in the oil field sector on dispute resolution and contractual matters, with a focus on shipbuilding, EPC and offshore drilling issues.

Hsu Mei acts on behalf of global rig owners, shipyards and offshore contractors in large complex disputes before the English High Court and in international arbitrations, with a focus on shipbuilding, EPC and drilling contractual matters. In addition, she advises clients in mediations and other ADR processes. Her legal experience also includes advising on shipbuilding and drilling contracts as well as insurance policy wordings.

Prior to qualifying as an English solicitor, Hsu Mei held various positions at the Maritime and Port Authority of Singapore, and was involved in the formulation of international maritime regulations and conventions as a member of the national delegation.

Hsu Mei speaks Mandarin as a second language.

Practice areas

- China Desk
- Dispute Resolution
- Litigation & Arbitration
- Oil & Gas
- Shipping & Oil Services

About Hsu Mei

Experience

Legal Advisor within EPC, drilling and shipbuilding contracts.

Legal Advisor within dispute resolution.

Education

2011 BPP Law School, London, Postgraduate Diploma in Legal Practice

2009 BPP Law School, London, Graduate Diploma in Law

2000 Bachelor of Arts (Hons) in History and Politics, University of York