Tord is a partner in our M&A Department in Oslo. He has more than 15 years' experience representing industrial and financial investors and their portfolio companies in transactional and strategic matters, such as mergers & acquisitions, capital market transactions and financial and corporate restructurings. This work often involves large projects across jurisdictions and disciplines.

While Tord represents clients across many sectors, he especially often counsels clients in the emerging technology industries and the aquaculture and fishery industries. He is also the head of our Life Sciences Practice Group and our Fisheries & Aquaculture Practice Group.

Tord is ranked as one of the leading lawyers in Norway.
